FIRE KILLING SEVEN IS LAID TO MANIAC

Investigators Believe Tenement Blaze and Others Same Man's Work.

FLAMES SPREAD QUICKLY

Whole Wooden Interior Soon
Burning and Escape Cut Off
—Several Injured.

Investigators from the District Attorney's office and the Fire Department said last night that the fire which started early yesterday in the tenement at 241 West 109th street, and which resulted in seven deaths and the probable fatal injury of two other persons, was without doubt the work of a pyromaniac who had tried to burn other buildings in the neighborhood.

The fire started in a pile of blankets and pillows in a baby carriage under the staircase on the ground floor. Because of the wooden construction of the stairs, casing and virtually all of the interior of the old building, the flames made their way to the roof with amazing rapidity, driving the tenants gasping to the windows and to the fire escape in front of the building, which by itself, was totally inadequate.

Although the rapid spread of the fire and the consequent loss of life were undoubtedly attributable to the woodwork, Frederic C. Kuehnle, chief building inspector, said there was nothing in the building regulations to prevent rebuilding with the same materials. The damage to the building is estimated at $10,000.

Seven Dead; Several Injured.

Following is the revised list of the dead: Wilbur Fenn, 45, and his son, Wilbur, Jr., 16; William Hummel, Jr., 16, and his brother, Albert, 12; Herman Hoff, 48, and his daughters, Irene, 21, and Flora, 4. William Hummel, father of the two boys who died, and Mrs. Herman Hoff are in Knickerbocker Hospital, suffering from burns and suffocation, and their condition last night was said to be serious. Rudolph Hummel, brother of William Hummel, is at the same hospital. At St. Luke's are Mrs. Louise Fenn, who lost her husband and son; James Irving and Mrs. Emma Anker, who is 63 years old.

John R. Hennis, Assistant District Attorney, arrived at the fire before it was extinguished and with Fire Marshal Brophy immediately started an investigation. The most important evidence, they believe, was given them by Henry Fenn, who lives next door, at No. 245. He said he heard a noise in the hallway

Many Daring Rescues Made.

At least a score of daring rescues were made. Patrolman Adolph Schwartz used a clothes line as a ladder to bring down Mrs. Tillie Klaser from the fourth floor. Edward J. Coffey, a watchman who has only one arm, fought his way twice through the smoke to the third floor and came back each time with an unconscious woman thrown across his shoulder. And there were many others. The wonder of it, the police and witnesses agree, was that more lives were not lost for the whole of the building seemed to be burning at once, and the lone fire escape down the front was useless because of the flames that came out of the second story and cut off all escape.

Two of the dead boys—Wilbur Fenn, Jr., and Albert Hummel—plunged to their death in desperation while firemen were begging them to hold on a little longer. The others were either burned or suffocated or both. For a time there was a report that Fireman John Shuber had been killed, but it turned out that a joint of his leg was dislocated as he fell two stories when a ladder broke. He was taken to St. Luke's for treatment.

normally developed maternal instinct still is held by the police as the only tenable one. Detectives at the 123d street station last night emphasized the important part which newspaper publicity has played in the case, believing that the woman who is hiding the baby may be induced to give it up when she reads of the suffering of its parents.

WARD TO HELP MORRIS DIRECT REPUBLICANS

Likely to Be More Active at Headquarters.

William L. Ward of Westchester is expected to be an active figure at Republican State headquarters in the present campaign.

As George K. Morris, the new State chairman, whose home is in Amsterdam, will not keep in so close contact with the headquarters between campaigns as has Mr. Glynn, the retiring chairman, because of his large business interests, it is probable Mr. Ward, who lives in Port Chester, will spend much time at State headquarters.

The new State chairman will be in the city to-morrow, when Mr. Glynn will acquaint him with the full preparations that have been made for the campaign.
